Don't Sucker Dripping Dick Run

As we all gathered in a dark field circle up was called. A virgin was called into the circle and told us her name so we all welcomed her with a “hi Sam” then we took turns introducing ourselves. The hare, Don't Know Dick, and her two cohares, Pucker Sucker and myself, got called into the circle so that everyone could find out why we were standing in deep snow in the middle of a field. We were all so excited to find out that we were trying something a little new tonight. Hash House Harriers Survivor.

The walkers went with Don't Know Dick and the runners were split into two groups with Pucker being a team leader to one and myself being the other team leader. We made our way through the different challenges with some more challenging than others. Trading shoes and then running to the circle and back, making ourselves into a pyramid while trying to take a selfie, kicking a ball with our heels to the person behind us catching it and three other challenging events. Once we had all completed the events we met back in the circle for some riddles to solve.

After enjoying some beers and snacks we walked (some drove) well over a hundred hash meters to where the swill was hidden. Circle up was called and punishments were quickly started. Wet Denim got punished for not knowing where she dropped swill off, Swings Both Ways got punished for not having his lovely wife with him, Don't Know Dick for making Hymen pee herself, Sam for being willing to lose her virginity and Blowin for well just being Blowin. I know there was more but I have since forgotten.

Then the rewards go to Don't Know Dick for organizing a great run, and to Pucker Sucker and myself for being her cohares. We really had no idea what we were doing but thank goodness this is a non-competitive group and we are all here to have fun!!! Off to Chillabongs we went for more food and drinks and great conversation.

Until next Thursday. On On
