Hares : Wee Little Bladder & Whore Sleighter

Location: McKenzie Trails – Picnic Shelter

Prelude: Murph's Pub

On On: Wee and Mz D's Backyard

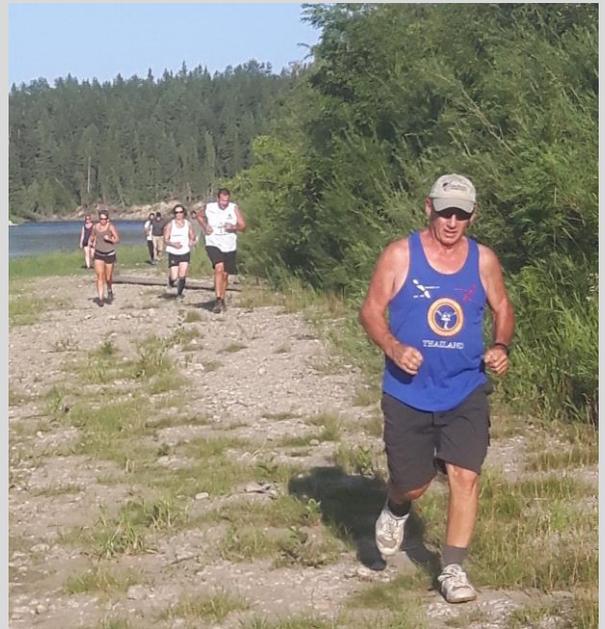

Scribe: Pleasure Chest

Evil side kick Whore Sleighter took the runners on a series of false trails. He discovered that runners would blindly follow anyone who pretended to know what they're doing so he stayed in the back as Blow Stick took the rest of them down a trail with no markings. I was waiting on the real trail hoping get a picture or two when I heard Curb Crawler calling. I couldn't let my friend be misled that way so I called out to him and he soon appeared with the rest of the miscreants in tow.

Everyone knows Blowin Ho's the charming, easy natured guy with a constant smile on his face. Well he wasn't smiling on Thursday night. One thing most people don't know about him is that he fucking hates writing! He hates it so much that he would've rather been whipped with Wee's dirty underwear than been asked to scribe. I couldn't let him dump this on Cheap N' Easy either so here's a little 28th Anniversary present for you my friends.

It was a sweaty but eager group that met at Mackenzie trail. Wee Little Bladder had requested the hottest day of the year for his run and G-Spot sure delivered. Trail marking were pretty standard and all were excited about the "RG" and instructions to "wait there till everybody cums". Everybody would be getting wet tonight!

The long-awaited RG appeared and the walkers were already getting in the mood for some action when we got there.

Of course, the ladies had to perform the customary "got to pee first". Don't Know Dick ended up with a little something extra in her pants but I don't think it gave her a rash.

Wanting to catch all of it from a great angle, I decided to skip the foreplay and jumped right in. Well it didn't take long till I got swept off my feet and carried away. It was a wet and wild embrace and I was glad that my beer survived that unscathed.

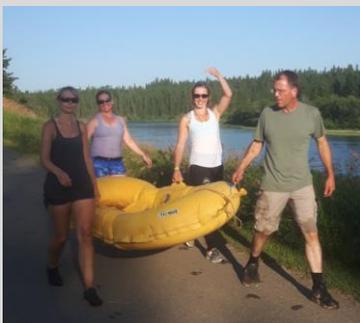

Some were anxiously waiting for the fun to begin, like Sir Cums A Lot who just loves to get down and dirty. At the other end of the spectrum was Butty Call who didn't look overly impressed at the prospect. As not everyone was as willing to embrace their wild side, the hares had provided some rubber devices for their safety and peace of mind.

Some started higher and worked their way down while others tried the straight on approach. Crash Test Rummy did man awesome job at handling 4 Harriettes all by himself while Slippery When Wet had two hands on the pole. Hymen Trouble figured her own two hands worked just fine.

I wish I could say that those who decide to do it Whore Sleigher's way had a great experience. Man! You got to work that shaft. The only positive thing was that he made it last the longest.

Eventually everybody came. Some were truly transformed by the experience. I even think that a new trio of Charles' Angels was born.

Some, like Deep Throat, just laid there while letting the guys do all the work.

We barely had a chance to catch our breath when Wee announced we were going in for it again. Most came at it from a much better angle the second time around and it was a slightly less harrowing experience.

A nice hash hold full of fancy craft beers was enjoyed by all the exhausted but satisfied hashers as hostess extraordinaire Lady Mz Daizey made an early escape to go prepare the On On.

Chips had a great time dishing out punishments and rewards during the circle. The hares sure did a great job! All were very glad to have visitors B.A.B.E and

Hand Job grace us with their presence. The stained toilet seat made a couple appearances and in short order everything was wrapped up and a hungry bunch went on to enjoy a backyard BBQ.

More pictures will be posted on the Facebook page.
