BAD THURSDAY RUN

Hare: Wee Little Bladder & Crash Test Rummy

Location: Kin Canyon

Scribe: Lady Miss Dazey

WLB & King Crash met up to set trail - WLB didn't return for 3 hrs - BAD

Miss Dazey's booze cupboard raided - VERY BAD

Hares King Crash & WLB talked on their phones for hours before the run started - BAD
EARLY PRE-LUBE - not so BAD

The Kin Canyon circle up came with a parade of all things BAD.

DKD dressed as a TNT with tassels and a bush for all to see.

Slippery came as a very BAD school girl, with just the right kind of inappropriate kilt and cleavage.

Miss Dazey sported a very BAD DICK face mask, compliments of G Spot.

TNT came with a "Walking Stick" only a week after surgery - what a BAD ass!!

Also present were: Sir Mobey's of Dickus, Curb Crawler, Gum See My Box, and it was good to see Whore Sleighter out again!! 👍

Our hares, King Crash & Wee Little Bladder came dressed appropriately GOOD, in Hazmat Suits to keep everybody safe!!

DKD pulled a bottle of BAD Apple juice from her very deep cleavage, and shared with everyone. Introductions were made, trail markings described, and the run was blessed by WLB.

Sending the pack on their way, King Crash joined the runners and WLB led the walking pack astray, which is not like him!!!! 🤪

Through Kin Canyon, the sound of On-On echoed scaring small animals and children alike. The runners found and lost trail while criss-crossing the walking pack, and we all met up at the first of 4 hash holds at the same time.

This was the first introduction to Irish Cactus which was a great success, and gave the pack the courage to forage in the forest with the promise of Easter Eggs.

Gum See was tripped up by the trip wire - BAD Hares!!

Unaffected by this she persevered through the bush to retrieve more eggs than anyone.

12 Easter Eggs in all were found and Slippery and Cum See each won a mysterious prize, which would be revealed in the Circle Up later.

Everyone else had to be happy with jelly beans and chocolate eggs and BAD hare Crash discovered a brown bean which was BAD, but he eat it anyway!!

We were joined by some non-hasher white tailed wildlife who thought we were a bit strange and disappeared into the woods, followed by the runners.

On-On to the next hash hold and a visit to the Jehovah's Witness church, where we were met by Ken who had come to retrieve bad ass TNT & "stick".

More IRISH CACTUS was consumed, I'm afraid!!!!

DKD & Slippery strutted their stuff (and more) for a photo op and On-On was called to drag them away from the camera.

The walking pack took a short cut across Bower Mall parking lot and they found the next hash hold at The Legion (sort of a church, I suppose).

The running pack had split between short cutting bastards and trail followers, and eventually we all met up for more "Cactus Irish shot thingies!!" No eggs to find this time and On-On was called as the light was fading.

By this time we were very much the half cut, sauntering hash. BAD Crash ran on ahead to unload a cooler with copious amounts of booze, for our 4th and final HH, across from some church that I don't remember the name!!! 🤔

The hashers were sent into the woods to hunt for more eggs. They found the remnants of a Homeless camp, and Cum See disappeared and was heard screaming and complaining of little pricks (she must be used to big ones) and she emerged bedraggled, smiling and clutching a handful of eggs!!

DKD had a pee break (unusual for her) in the woods and found a winning prize!

Life was good.

The pack walked to the hash hold with promises of a share of BAD Crash's wiener!!!

Punishments and prizes were enjoyed around a huge fire and the winners of the egg hunt were given - yes you guessed it - SHOOTERS!!! Slippery, DKD, and Cum See (who was the winner of two) let Sir Mobey's take one for the team as she was driving.

A great night was had by all!!

PS: From Wee - “Definitely Run of the Year” 😄😄👍
