The Gotham Gazette May 23rd 2024

It's starting to seem like Gotham aka Red Deer City is without its saviors . With the Bat signal lighting up the hash trail every night last week, Batman and friends were late to show. Sources within the city Police Department (Royal Mount Me Police) have stated that none of his proteges have yet arrived on the scene either.

When asked to comment, Commissioner "Doggie " James Gordon had this to say. " if Batman wants to take a vacation at the Comfort Inn Red Deer, fine , hell I'd say it's long overdue, but the GCPD are more than capable of doing it's job and protecting the city . Get this damn camera out of my face!"

However on Thursday the Bat 'n' friends arrived on scene in their bat-two-wheels. The gang of heroes included Batman (mount me) , crash man, "simple" batman aka one nut aka Mobey, They were joined by the flasherer "flash" father and daughter team, a slippery Batwoman, a Wonder Woman who sometimes wears stickers and sometimes tassels on her titties. There was a mature lady who Cums when she See's Mickey Mouse , something age inappropriate there but who am I to judge, Dicksee's jester costume was so tight he wanted everyone to see his cup. They were accompanied by a Nasty Pussie (Grabbin). Off they went to solve the riddles and save the day! Following the bat trail to a T, never missing an arrow or a marker, they found the joker's follower. This follower, who doesn't know dick, handed us cards and puzzle pieces. Onwards the masked crusaders went to save the city.

Climbing mountains and valleys they arrived at a certain Casino backdoor , yes backdoor works for some. This place was the bomb! Literally ! The crew went to work to save Gotham from a disastrous event. The puzzlers were faster than a speeding bullet in order to provide everyone with the code to unlock the bomb. Keys were eventually handed to Wonder Woman. It's a good thing she has nice tits cause putting small things into holes quickly is not her calling. Alas they beat the clock but still had to take a shot for the team! ON ON they headed (did someone say head) towards that loose card slinging woman Harleen (Harlotte) Quinzel, Harley Quinn, who also recently escaped from an asylum (are we surprised??) She doesn't know Dick either. This part of the journey was not without incident . It involved loose chains, lost nuts and road rash. After collection of cards off to Commissioner Gordon's garage for refreshments of all kinds. The hero team was also joined by some tall guy in a trench coat and tie with green hair , and a bad makeup job. His arm was in a bit of a sling and he was offering us swill. There were rumors that he may have been The Joker, or a Joker in drag or perhaps just an overstressed Oilers fan. He was accompanied by a beautiful Ms Daisy.

The crew regrouped for a series of celebrations , punishments and songs back at the bat cave, some know it as a parking lot. There was chocolate and sour pussies galore! Costume awards to Dixie and Crashman! Best Poke-her hands to that nasty pussy Grabbin and best number of jokers hand to Daddy flasher. Hmmm Interesting that he ended up with three jokers given who was handing out cards???
